

I am powerful, I am loving and I have nothing to fear.

I act responsibly and loving toward my self and others.

I keep my heart open to receive all the riches before me.

I am sculpting my life the way I want it to.

I release my fear about the outcome of all situations of my life.

I let go and trust that my life is happening perfectly.

Love is my life and I put love into everything I do.

I always choose the path with my heart.

I am finding a solution to all tasks placed before me.

I feel the power and love that my soul radiates.

I relax knowing I can handle all that needs to be handled.

My life is happening perfectly for my higher self.

I am creating a rich and joyful life....one step at a time.

I let go and let the river of life carry me to new adventures.

The loving arms of my inner light keep me safe.

I put aside all stressful thoughts and focus on what is beautiful now.

Everything I do is perfect for my growth and self-discovery.

I am reaching out and inviting others into my life.

I am lover-in-training and I am learning my lessons well.

I joyfully thank those who have contributed to my life.

I am learning something valuable from all life's experiences.

I touch the world with love where ever I go.

I stand tall and take responsibility for all my life.

I feel myself growing stronger and stronger. I say YES! To it all.

I allow no one to take away my good feelings today.

I lighten up and enjoy the show!

I trust the wisdom that lies within me.

My life has meaning and purpose

I embrace the world like a lover.
